1 there. She, at the facility, also demonstrated, you 2 know, as far as her activity -- we sort of discussed 3 this already -- appeared appropriate, ambulatory, 4 stable gait, not, you know -- not comatose, not -- you 5 know, we talked about red flags already -- she looked 6 appropriate. 7 And so you put all those together, that she's 8 been seen, she was evaluated, and, you know, I know the 9 vital signs were normal. I don't know if those were 10 transmitted, but she had normal vital signs, medically 11 cleared, and again, once at the facility, she's 12 ambulatory. She's walking around acting like a 13 17-year-old girl. There was no evidence of a severe 14 medical condition is basically what my opinion is. 15 Q. Okay. 16 MR. KOMER: Lee, whenever you're ready, if we 17 would take a break because it's been a little over an 18 hour, I think. 19 MR. HUNT: Sure. Now's fine. 20 MR. KOMER: Okay. 21 (Whereupon, a recess was held from 22 1:29 p.m. to 1:40 p.m.) 23 MR. HUNT: Back on the record. 24 BY MR. HUNT: 25 Q. Doctor, we were talking about the third	1 A. It's my opinion that based on her presentation 2 and the reports and the documentation and the video 3 that's available, there was no evidence of a severe 4 medical condition occurring whether it's jail staff or 5 even in my case as a physician, I didn't see anything 6 that I would have picked up as a concerning medical 7 issue. 8 Q. Okay. And as far as just understanding, kind 9 of, the foundation of that from your perspective, as 10 far as any -- what information are you relying on for 11 what the jail staff observed about Desiree? 12 A. Well, observed and known; right? They know 13 she had a heroin overdose earlier. It's been a number 14 of hours since that occurred and so that part 15 basically, you know, out of the woods, concerning from 16 a medical perspective. The presentation that she had, 17 again, ambulatory, interactive, you know, directable, 18 they knew that. 19 They had the interactions with her. They had 20 the -- getting her to her bed area. The only other 21 thing that sort of comes up that seems to be 22 questionable is if she was snoring versus making 23 respiratory noises at some point which would be 24 basically strong evidence that she's breathing versus 25 that she was in recurrent heroin overdose; that would

1 opinion listed in your report talking about no evidence 2 of severe medical condition. And if I could -- and 3 again sometimes these depositions become quite 4 tedious -- but in your own terms, when you use the 5 phrase "severe medical condition or need," what do you 6 mean? 7 A. Sure. Basically something that is evidenced 8 by the presentation that would be indicative of 9 something of a clear medical problem: True altered 10 mental status, paralysis, you know, things that would 11 be obviously there. Certainly there could be medical 12 conditions that are silent that nobody's going to be 13 able to pick up because they're silent. You know, the 14 heart attack without chest pain, you can't pick that 15 up. So what I'm talking about is what you can see and 16 evaluate based on the presentation that she's having 17 there. 18 Q. Okay. And I think before the break you kind 19 of described the basis for your testimony in terms of 20 what was reviewed or what was perceived by the jail 21 staff -- and let me back up. 22 This testimony on here, is it your testimony 23 that no one from the jail staff had the ability to 24 recognize that a severe medical condition or need was 25 ongoing?	1 be the opposite. She wouldn't make any noise because 2 her breathing would be so shallow you wouldn't even 3 know it was happening. So all those things put 4 together when I review it as a medical evaluator for 5 that, leads me to believe that there was no severe 6 medical condition that could have been picked up by 7 them or, again, myself if I was evaluating it. 8 Q. Okay. Any other information or evidence that 9 you rely upon in forming that opinion that there was no 10 evidence of severe medical condition? 11 A. The hospital paperwork is helpful as well, 12 not -- the part that was sent with her but also the 13 evaluation of the ED discharge. Her vital signs were 14 stable at the time of discharge. The timing of the 15 medication dosages all are part of my evaluation of the 16 case and that. You know, but from a pure clinical 17 perspective, it's the observations and the 18 interactions. 19 Q. Okay. Do you have any understanding of the 20 jail staff's training as relates to opiate overdose or 21 observation? 22 A. I couldn't tell you I know exactly how they 23 were trained or what they were trained on, no, I 24 couldn't answer that. 25 Q. All right. Did you look at that in your
